Five days on the island

Fly in from Malé on Day 1. On Day 2, cycle from the fishing harbour to Thoondu’s white pebbles and return via two freshwater lakes. Join a local guide in the taro fields on Day 3, paddle on the northern lake on Day 4 and walk to an old coral-stone bathing pool before flying back on Day 5.

When to go

February and March are generally drier in the southern atolls, though showers still occur. Start riding at 07:30 and take a long lunch break. If thunderstorms interrupt Day 2, ask the guide and bike shop about swapping the loop with Day 4.

Where to stay and how to get there

All times are local to the Maldives. Choose flights for your travel dates before setting the transfer and meal times.

First choice: The Sandscape

Three friends can share a family room with three single beds, or one king and one single. The partner rate includes breakfast, island airport transfers, service charge and accommodation GST. The hosts also arrange the guided ride and kayaking.

The partner lists US$60–65 per room per night. Four nights plus US$72 in green tax for three come to US$312–332. The guesthouse's own site lists a triple room at US$110 per night. Ask for a written total for three adults and three single beds.

For separate rooms: Wanderlust Fuvahmulah

Request a twin and a second room for single occupancy. Café Eden is on site. A partner lists US$55–70 per room per night, or US$440–560 for two rooms for four nights. Check taxes, breakfast and single-occupancy terms.

Day 1 / Arrival and dinner by the harbour

12:00–12:45 — Lunch at Malé airport

Allow US$15 per person for a light lunch in your terminal.

Afternoon — Fly from Malé (MLE) to Fuvahmulah (FVM)

Allow about 80–90 minutes in the air. Meet the guesthouse driver, then set aside 45 minutes to check in and confirm tomorrow's bikes.

18:30–19:30 — Dinner at Royal Restaurant

Ask about Kattelhi fish stew with rice or taro. Allow US$15 per person. The price of the fish depends on the catch.

From the harbour and back

Estimated route length: 12 km. Allow about 85 minutes of riding, plus time at the beach, lakes and bike shop.

06:45–07:15 — Guesthouse breakfast

Breakfast is included. Arrange an early serving the night before and fill your water bottles.

07:30–07:45 — Pick up the bikes outside the harbour

Extreme Dive lists a standard bike at US$10 per day, or US$30 for three. Agree on helmets and pickup in advance. Test the brakes and adjust each saddle.

07:45–08:45 — Ride the eastern village roads to Thoondu

Ride for 30 minutes, then spend 30 minutes on foot watching the surf and photographing the white pebbles. Beach access is free. Stay ashore because of strong currents.

08:45–09:35 — Dhadimagi Kilhi, the northern lake

Ride for 15 minutes and stop for 35. Lock the bikes and walk the nature park boardwalk to look for waterhens and herons. Ask the park to confirm the fee for overseas visitors.

09:35–10:20 — Western villages to Bandaara Kilhi

Ride for 20 minutes and explore the southern lake on foot for 25. Use an open entrance to see taro plots and wetland plants. Check the visitor fee locally.

10:20–10:55 — Return the bikes outside the harbour

Ride for 20 minutes on public roads outside the airport grounds. Allow 15 minutes for returns. Budget US$5 per person at each lake pending confirmation.

11:10–12:10 — Lunch at Pirates of the Maldivian

Fish curry (MVR 45), rice (MVR 25) and a fresh coconut (MVR 40) total MVR 110 per person. Check taxes when ordering.

16:30–17:15 — Harbour walk, then dinner at Café Eden

Watch the fishing boats from the public road for free. At 18:30–19:30, try a burger or fried rice at Café Eden. Allow US$15 each.

07:30–08:15

Breakfast at the guesthouse

Ask the night before about mas huni, a local breakfast of tuna and grated coconut served with flatbread. Breakfast is included.

08:30–11:00

Guided ride through taro fields and villages

US$40 per person, or US$120 for three. Allow 2½ hours to see the fields and learn how taro is grown. Stop before taking photos. Confirm the meeting point, duration, bikes and helmets with the host.

11:30–12:30

Lunch at Cool Banana

Overlooking farmland in the north, Cool Banana serves lemon chicken and Mongolian fried rice. Order different dishes to share. Allow US$15 each.

15:30–16:30

Rest and share photos at the guesthouse

Each rider can pick one photo from the fields or coast. Have dinner at Pirates from 18:30 to 19:30. Its tuna pasta is listed at MVR 120.

07:30–08:15 — Guesthouse breakfast

Fill your water bottles. Ask the host about lake conditions and transport, and tell the guide how much paddling experience each rider has.

09:00–10:30 — Kayak on Dhadimagi Kilhi

The guesthouse lists US$35 per person, or US$105 for three. Allow 90 minutes for the briefing, life jackets and paddling. Confirm what the price covers, including transfers, entry and equipment.

12:00–13:00 — Lunch at Café Eden

Try fried rice or a burger, then rest at the guesthouse during the hottest hours. Allow US$15 per person and check the day’s menu prices.

16:30–18:00 — Thoondu coastal walk or beach tea

Watch the waves for free, or book beach tea for an extra US$45 each (US$135 for three). Have dinner at Royal from 18:30 to 19:30. Allow US$15 each.

A coral-stone pool before the flight

This schedule assumes an afternoon or evening return flight. Work back from your confirmed check-in time.

08:00–08:45 — Guesthouse breakfast

Breakfast is included. Pack, arrange luggage storage and confirm your airport pickup time.

09:15–10:00 — Walk to the Vasho Veyo bathing pool

Allow 45 minutes for the round trip and a look at the circular coral-stone walls from the public area. Budget US$0 for the walk and follow signs about entry.

11:15–12:30 — Check out and have lunch by the harbour

At Pirates, tuna rice or noodles (MVR 50) and black tea (MVR 5) come to MVR 55 per person.

2 hours before — Check in at FVM for the flight to Malé

Maldivian's domestic counters usually open two hours before departure and close one hour before. The minimum domestic-to-international connection is two hours. Allow at least three hours on separate tickets.
